Migration to B version

Thank you very much for your long time usage of our VCC-G20E and G20A series. Due to discontinuance of some component parts, the following products will be discontinued and migrated to B version. We sincerely hope you enjoy B version as well. There is no big change in the basic specifications and old models can be simply replaced with B versions.

Please kindly be noted that old models will no longer be supplied when all of our stock are depleted.
